Delaware County Child Support Enforcement Agency Announces Coloring Contest Winners

DELAWARE, Ohio — Delaware County's award-winning Child Support Enforcement Agency continues to honor Child Support Awareness Month in August. The agency recently announced the winners of a coloring contest they sponsored for local children.

CSEA staff members donated and stuffed three backpacks with school supplies appropriate for each age-group winner and their schools. The winners included: Khloe Thompson, age 4; Lorenzo Thomas, age 9; and Jarryn Andrews, age 10.

"Our goal is to raise awareness of the important services provided by child-support programs throughout Ohio and the U.S.," said CSEA Director Joyce Bowens. "It's also important to honor how critical the financial and emotional support is that parents and caretakers provide to children."

Throughout August, the CSEA has been recognizing and thanking organizations and partners in Delaware County who assist them.
