I. General Information

Agency Summary

Delaware County Transit (DCT) is the public transportation provider in Delaware County governed by a seven-member board appointed by the Delaware County Commissioners under Ohio Revised Code §306.01 and §306.02. DCT began as the County's transportation provider in 1998 and has been steadily growing its operations ever since; however, Delaware County continues to grow at an exponential rate. Per the Mid-Ohio Region Planning Commission (MORPC), the Central Ohio region is expected to grow from just over 2 million today to over 3 million in population by 2050.

What does this mean for Delaware County? MORPC's population growth models project that Delaware County will increase by 80% of its current population. This equates to approximately 380,000 – 400,000 residents within the County by 2050. With this rapid growth comes increased demand for improved mobility, and without a Strategic Plan to serve the increased population, DCT will fly blind into the future, which is unacceptable to our community and taxpayers.

As the County and the region grows, mobility options for the general public, workforce, and health and human services require dynamic and varied responses. The traveling public has become accustomed to having various means of mobility options at their fingertips and DCT is at the center of a transformative shift in the mobility options for the County and region.

The Strategic Plan will become DCT's "North Star", the guiding document that provides tangible goals for the agency to achieve in a 5-year period but also tangible promises to the County that DCT will not act inconsistent to the County needs, but coordinated and intentional, fiscally responsible and service-oriented.

A full description of DCT is provided in an appendix at the end of the document.

II. Scope of Work

Delaware County Transit is seeking proposals for a Strategic Plan that with the following scope of work:

1. Review of Existing Service, Financials, and Fare Program
2. Public Engagement
3. Facility Review and Needs Assessment
4. Future Funding and Financial Analysis
5. Immediate, Medium, and Long Term Goals

Review of Existing Service, Financials and Fare Program

The vendor will be required to review current operations, financial programming and fare program. This portion will provide a groundwork for the vendor to understand DCT's operations, financial practices, and fare structure. This will be used as a juxtaposition for the final document which will highlight future operations, financials, etc.

The vendor will be required to document and denote all operational facets of DCT, the County's general population and demographic statistics, current economic points of interest, and other standard information as it relates to the current service for Delaware County.

Public Engagement

Public engagement will be critical for the success of the Strategic Plan. The successful vendor will provide a detailed public engagement program, along with a thorough schedule of public meetings, Steering Committee selection process and methodology, and understanding of transit Boards and presenting information to political officials. The successful vendor will provide written and documented experience with interfacing with Boards and Commissioner Offices. The successful vendor will have means to execute graphics, maps, and other materials for presentations.

DCT anticipates that most of the public engagement meetings will be in person, with possibilities for hybrid opportunities with certain stakeholders.

Due to the nature and style of public meetings that DCT is looking for a vendor to engage, having a local presence, either within the prime or sub teams, will be beneficial to the project.

The successful vendor will act as an arm of DCT during public meetings, providing subject matter experts that have worked within communities similar to Delaware County.

Facility Review and Needs Assessment

DCT is nearing operational capacity at its current operational and administrative headquarters. The successful vendor will provide an analysis of the current facility and provide a “needs assessment” for any potential facility expansion or site development.

The successful vendor will provide a high-level report that provides a breakdown of DCT’s current facility, a high-level assessment of potential areas of focus for future site development, and a facility plan that is in symmetry with any operational improvements as suggested in the final report. The facilities analysis shall include guidance for studying the transition to renewable resources for the vehicle fleet (electric, hydrogen, etc.).

Future Funding and Financial Analysis

The successful vendor will be able to provide a financial analysis of the current operating model, and what financials will need to be improved upon in order to meet future demand, as provided by the Public Engagement portion.

The successful vendor will provide a realistic plan for the funding of Delaware County Transit as it looks to deliver on the service as requested by the public within the Public Engagement process in accordance with Ohio Revised Code.

The future funding and financial analysis plan will be fiscally responsible and realistic in the agency’s ability to deliver on funding current and future service.

Immediate, Mid-Term and Long-Term Goals

The successful vendor will provide a summary of goals and deliver these in “Immediate” (0 – 1 years) “Mid-Term” (2-4 years) and “Long Term” (5+ years) goals for the agency.

These goals will be a summarization and synthesis of the Public Engagement, Facility Needs, and Future Funding sections.

Further, this portion of the Strategic Plan will provide the community high-level and yet measurable commitments as provided by the Public Engagement portion. These goals will take into account the funding models as provided in the previous portion of the Strategic plan, highlighting the agency’s goal to maintain fiscal responsibility.

This portion of the Strategic Plan will provide the community a “promise” that the “North Star” of DCT is aligned with County needs, County partnerships, and the overall vision of the County as provided by area leaders and stakeholders.

The successful vendor will need to demonstrate the ability to synthesize and summarize all of this information into DCT's Strategic Plan.

APPENDIX B

Development and Growth

Housing and residential growth have been a constant for the County for decades. Families are attracted to the high performing school districts found in the area. Housing stock is primarily single family with a median home value of $338,000. The County desires to find the right balance of economic development growth to accompany the strong residential growth that has occurred, in order to continue offering stable tax rates and strong services. The County understands that by diversifying the economic base and adding different types of commercial and industrial business to the County tax rolls, the overall tax burden goes down for everyone.

Additional development has continued in the County, in part, because of the County's smart-growth strategy. The County assisted in several economic development infrastructure projects including supporting roads for Ikea in Polaris, the Tanger Outlet Mall in Berkshire Township and supported the build out of Sawmill Parkway which is a primary north-route that connects Delaware County to Columbus.

Government and Finances

The Board of County Commissioners is the legislative body for the County's government and is a three (3) member board. The Commissioners are elected by the residents of the County to serve four-year terms. The Commissioners provide authority for taxing, budgeting, purchasing and appropriating funds for the government structure. The Board of Commissioners is supported by the County Administrator to oversee their mission and ensure the County is an excellent place to both live and work. The Board of Commissioners selects Board members for the Delaware County Transit Board who provides the overall vision of the agency. The Executive Director reports to the seven person Board and executes the vision set by the Board.

Delaware County comprises 18 townships, 4 villages and 6 cities. Townships comprise approximately 52% of the County's population while Delaware County cities include portions of Columbus, Dublin and Westerville, as well as the Cities of Delaware, Sunbury and Powell. Delaware City has the largest population of the Cities in the County with over 40,000 residents and Orange Township has the largest population of the Townships with over 30,000 residents.

The County has a history of solid financial standing along with measured growth. A combination of strong assessed value and sales from retail establishments generate a variety of tax revenue that allows the County to deliver services to the community. Delaware County has the highest possible credit ratings from both Moody's Investors Services (Aaa) and Standard & Poor's Ratings Services (AAA), making it only the second county in Ohio and only one of 80 counties in the U.S. to earn these ratings. It had a total general revenue budget of $128.8 million in 2022.

Economic Overview

Delaware County is home to some of the biggest employers in the Columbus region. JP Morgan Chase, DHL Supply Chain, and Hitachi represent some of the largest employers in the County. Several headquarters are located in the County including Greif, a Fortune 1000 packaging company and recently Vertiv moved their headquarters to Westerville. Delaware County led the state in employment growth, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics from March of 2021 to March of 2022 at a 4.4% growth rate, just ahead of Franklin County at 3.7%. In the same time period, Delaware County sat just above the $1,374 national average for weekly wages at $1,378. Delaware comprises nearly 6,400 establishments and is closing in on a 90,000 person employment base. The Central Ohio region has one of the highest concentrations of higher education in the nation, with 52 college and university campuses, a total enrollment of 134,000 and 22,000 annual graduates. Delaware County is home to several institutions that support this regional talent pipeline including the Delaware Area Career Center, Columbus State Community College and Ohio Wesleyan University. While large corporate firms are vital to the economic base, the County recognizes that small businesses also are important. There are a variety of initiatives occurring in the entrepreneurship space in Delaware County to support incubators, business start-ups and funding.
