Ohio's Biggest and Best Touch-a-Truck at Olentangy Berlin H.S. This Saturday

DELAWARE, Ohio — Ohio's Biggest and Best Touch-a-Truck will roll, crawl and fly into Olentangy Berlin High School on Saturday, July 19, from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. Approximately 100 public-service and commercial vehicles are expected to be on site at 3140 Berlin Station Road in Delaware during this free, family event sponsored by the Delaware County Emergency Medical Services Department (DCEMS) and Berlin Township Fire Department.

The no-horns event promises plenty to see and explore for both kids and kids at heart as they get up close to heavy machinery, including helicopters (weather permitting), boats, buses, farm equipment and even a monster truck with tires that are over 5 feet tall. Attendees can also learn hands-only CPR and bleeding control and equipment demonstrations.

Donations of canned food items and box fans are encouraged and will be collected at the event by People In Need, Inc., of Delaware County.

Last year, an estimated 5,000 people attended a similar event at the school. Organizers are expecting a larger turnout this year thanks to a continued promotional partnership with CBUS Media Group, the parent company of the event's official radio sponsor, Sunny 95.

As with years past, attendees will be able to place orders from several local food trucks on hand during the event.
